Lessons from History

WEEKLY · 45 MINUTES

BEGINS 2 SEPTEMBER 2026

DHA ISLAMABAD

TANZEEM-E-ISLAMI

DELIVERED IN URDU

ADULT AUDIENCE

A ten-session course that gives non-specialists a usable mental map of Islamic history — where events happened, in what order, how we know them, and what lessons the scholars have drawn from them. Not a survey to be sat through: participants leave each evening having written on their own timeline and drawn on their own map.

HOW THIS COURSE IS KEPT SAFE

The commitments that govern every slide, every handout and every answer from the floor.

One named Sunni source The course is built on Tareekh-e-Ummat by Maulana Muhammad Ismail Rehan, rather than self-authored. Where a period falls outside it, a second named work is chosen openly and stated to the audience.	Every claim traceable Each source volume is indexed to its printed page numbers, so any date, name or quotation on screen can be traced to a page a listener could open themselves. Nothing uncertain is stated as fact.
No lesson is the speaker's opinion Every conclusion is presented as a quotation with its author and page shown on the slide — the Qur'ān, a hadith, or a named scholar. The speaker narrates; he does not adjudicate.	The sensitive material is fenced first Before any disputed episode, session 3 installs the fuqahā's own ruling from the source: studying the مشاجرات without need is مکروه, and the Companionsؓ are met with ادب and حُسنِ ظن.
No live questions, no positions from the floor No questions are taken during the 45 minutes. Written slips go into a box at the door and are answered the following week from prepared, sourced replies; the speaker stays fifteen minutes afterwards for one-to-one. Nothing is ever improvised on the Companions'ؓ disputes.	Nothing is recorded No filming and no clips, at any session. The material of sessions 4, 7 and 9 is exactly the kind that travels badly as a two-minute excerpt without the framing that preceded it.
Reviewed before delivery Tanzeem-e-Islami reviews the sensitive material ahead of the evening it is delivered — specifically session 3 (the مشاجرات framing) and session 4 (کربلا).	Calendar checked None of the ten dates falls in محرم. Session 4, which carries کربلا, is not being delivered into محرم.
Prepared in writing, in advance Each session carries a written brief, a full Urdu script with timings, a one-page lectern card, and printed handouts — completed before the evening, not assembled on the day.

THE WHOLE SPAN, AND HOW THE TEN EVENINGS SIT ON IT

Every session drawn to scale against عيسوی ۱۹۴۷-۶۲۲.

Sessions overlap in time because they follow different regions: Baghdad and Córdoba run alongside the Sultanate of Delhi, and the Ottomans alongside the Mughals. The course keeps them in narrative order, not in strict chronological order.

THE TEN SESSIONS

Each evening: one story, three people, one movement on the map, one sourced lesson.

01

هـ - ۱۱۱۹ف۷

ایک نظر میں - پورا نقشہ

The whole span in a single evening.

Fourteen centuries told fast and in order — from a valley in Arabia to the gates of France, to a caliph killed by a Mongol in ۶۵۶ھ, to the last empire ending in 1924, to this city. The timeline and the map are built live and handed over completed, so every later evening has somewhere to attach.

INTRODUCED

عمر الفاروقؓ، ہلاکو خان، سلطان محمد فاتح

LESSON, AND WHOSE

مولانا شمس الحق افغانی — the four things a people needs to rise, and why the past is the first of them

ON THE MAP

The whole basin; the six anchor cities placed

02

هـ - ۱۱ - ۲۳

بارہ سال

Twelve years: from a threatened city to two broken empires.

The Prophet ﷺ has died and Arabia is in revolt. Twelve years later Persia has fallen and Byzantium has lost Syria and Egypt. How the succession held, how the Qurʾān was gathered, and how an administration was built while the fighting was still on.

INTRODUCED

ابوبکر الصديقؓ، خالد بن الوليدؓ، ابو عبيده بن الجراحؓ

LESSON, AND WHOSE

The source on why leadership rests on experience and judgment, and how history supplies centuries of both in an hour

ON THE MAP

Madīna held → Yarmūk, Qādisiyyah, Egypt

The first test — approached with the scholars' own rules in place.

The empire is vast and young, and the strain begins to show. This evening opens by stating the fuqahā's ruling on studying these events at all, and Ibn Ḥajar al-Haytamī's reason for narrating them: to show the Companions' integrity, not to weigh them against one another. Everything after that is narrated from the book and stops where the book stops.

INTRODUCED

عثمان ذوالنورینؓ، علیؓ، معاویہؓ — three
Companions, which is itself the point

ON THE MAP

Kūfa, Baṣra, Fuṣṭāṭ and Dimashq become the new centres

LESSON, AND WHOSE

The fiqh of studying history, and ابن حجر الہیتمیؒ
on why it is narrated

SENSITIVE MATERIAL · GUARDRAIL INSTALLED HERE

How a consultative office became a hereditary throne.

The handover that ended the fighting and gave the year its name; then a century in which the frontier reached Sindh and Spain within the same decade, and an Umayyad caliph is remembered for returning what his family had taken.

INTRODUCED

حسن بن علیؓ، عمر بن عبدالعزیز رحمہ اللہ، محمد بن
قاسم

ON THE MAP

The widest extent — Sindh and Spain, ۹۲-۹۳ھ

LESSON, AND WHOSE

The source on foresight and vigilance — مَا أَتَيْتُ
الْيَلَّةَ بِالتَّارِخِ

SENSITIVE MATERIAL · HANDLED PER SESSION 3

Baghdad and Córdoba — the same centuries, two capitals, two endings.

Paper arrives from Samarqand and a city starts translating the world; at the other end of the Mediterranean a second capital builds a library.

What each achieved, what each cost, and what happened when a scholar had to say no to a ruler.

INTRODUCED

هارون الرشيد. امام احمد بن حنبل رحمه الله. عبد الرحمن الداخل

ON THE MAP

Baghdad and Córdoba together; then both collapses

LESSON, AND WHOSE

علامه سخاوی and امام علی بن المدینی — knowing men is half of knowledge; wisdom perishes unless written

Two centuries in which it nearly ended.

Jerusalem lost and retaken; then a catastrophe from the east that took Baghdad itself in ٦٥٦هـ. Why the civilisation survived losing its capital — where the books went, where the scholars went, and where the counter-attack finally came from.

INTRODUCED

صلاح الدين ايوبي رحمه الله. هلاكو خان. الظاهر بيبرس

ON THE MAP

The Levant, then the Mongol sweep; Cairo becomes the refuge

LESSON, AND WHOSE

The source on صبر و استقامت, with the hadith of the nations before us

Six hundred years, and how they ended.

A frontier principality becomes the longest-lived Muslim state in history, takes Constantinople in ۸۵۷ھ, reaches Vienna — and then spends two centuries retreating. The evening asks what length actually proves.

INTRODUCED

سلطان محمد فاتح . سلطان سلیمان . سلطان عبد الحمید ثانی

ON THE MAP

Anatolia → Constantinople → Vienna → the long retreat

LESSON, AND WHOSE

The author on قومی غیرت — what becomes of a people that forgets whose heirs it is

How Islam reached this land, and what was built here.

A thousand years of Muslim South Asia — from Sindh, through the Sultanate of Delhi, to an empire ruled from Agra and Delhi. The evening the course arrives at the ground the audience is standing on.

INTRODUCED

To be set from the source for this period

ON THE MAP

سندھ ← غزنوی و غوری ← سلطنتِ دہلی ← مغل

LESSON, AND WHOSE

شمس الحق افغانی، the first of the four ماضی سے ارتباط —

Ninety years: from the end of one order to the beginning of another.

The collapse of Muslim political power in the subcontinent, the scholarly and educational responses to it, and the road that ends in 1947. The course stops here, at the point where history becomes memory.

INTRODUCED

شاہ ولی اللہ رحمہ اللہ and two others, to be set from the source

ON THE MAP

The subcontinent; 1857; 1947

LESSON, AND WHOSE

The source on knowing an adversary's methods, and on answering what is written about us

Putting it together.

No new history. The completed timeline and map go back up, the ten lessons are read out together in the participants' own words, and everyone leaves with a reading path and the three books worth starting with. This is the evening the course is designed to be remembered from.

INTRODUCED

The three historians to read next

ON THE MAP

The whole map, now dense

LESSON, AND WHOSE

سورة يوسف — ﴿لَقَدْ كَانَ فِي قَصَصِهِمْ عِبْرَةٌ لِأُولِي الْأَلْبَابِ﴾

۱۲:۱۱۱

WHAT HAPPENS IN EACH EVENING

The same shape every week — which is what lets someone who missed a session rejoin in three minutes.

0:00	آغاز — the timeline and map go up: last week here, tonight here	3 min
0:03	The opening — a scene, never a definition	5 min
0:08	The story, with the map moving as it goes	20 min
0:28	تعارف — three people, each with one authentic incident	7 min
0:35	کیسے پتا چلا؟ — how we know this, and how forgeries were caught	3 min
0:38	آج کی بات — the sourced lesson; everyone writes their own takeaway	4 min
0:42	اگلے مفتے — closing on a question	3 min

WHAT EACH PARTICIPANT RECEIVES

Printed, A4, and theirs to keep.

The workbook

A stapled booklet given at session 1. It opens with a timeline they mark in their own handwriting every week, and a base map they draw on. Then two pages per session: a map worksheet, and three profile pages where the incident is left blank for them to write.

A catch-up sheet

A single page reissued weekly for anyone joining late — the timeline, the map, where the course has reached, and one line on each session so far.

The تعارف نامہ

At session 10, a bound directory of all thirty people met during the course, each with their dates, what they did, and one incident — a reference they keep afterwards.

SOURCES
